Costermans

Since 1839

Pair of marble statues based on models by Jean De Bologne, known as Giambologna (1529–1608)

115 x 45 x 35 x 17 (3 x 45 x 17 inches)

“A bagpipe player and a peasant rest

Pair of marble statues based on mo
Giambologna (1529–1608)

Origin: Netherlands or Italy, 18th ce

Sculpted white marble

Dimensions: Height: 116 cm x 45 cm v

&

Height: 115 cm x 44 cm width x 35 cm

Provenance:

- Former English private collection.

- Former François Antonovich collect

- French private collection

This pair of marble sculptures depic peasant leaning on his stick and c monumental scale, they are part of t century garden statuary, intended to

The bagpipe player is depicted in a slightly turned, holding his instrum hand, adopts a resting posture, in m The figures are dressed in simple co large, natural folds, suitable for ou

The treatment of the faces, with the vocabulary, while the construction o compositions reveal a formal cultur octagonal bases, integrated into th freestanding garden sculptures, desi

PROVENANCE

- Formerly in a private collection in

- Formerly in the François Antonovic