

Costermans

Since 1839

JEAN-LOUIS PRIEUR (AFTER)

(1732 - 1795)

A pair of three-armed candelabra with putti

47 x 3 1/2 inches (119 cm)

ormolu bronze bronze

19th century

This pair of three-armed candelabra with corbels, encircled by a laurel wreath are set within quadrangular cartouche krater with Greek-style handles, from sun with powerful rays, reflected on grass, possibly evoking a mirror. The of various shapes.

Two patinated bronze putti stand on to support the shaft of the candelabrum, starting from the base of the shaft, d

The shaft rises from a hexagonal, fl leaves, from which emerge the three l fleur-de-lis. The arms are decorated candle holders feature laurel toruses